2021 NIS-teen data was recently released!

Summary points:

- Gap between rural and urban still persists
- Brenda Anastasio will provide the 2020 and 2021 VFC data to compare to the NIS-Teen data
- Response rate is 21% which is similar to prior years
- 41% of participants have provider validated data – this is a decrease from the past NIS-Teen report that had 48%
- How are less vaccines being ordered, yet an increase in vaccination rates? There seems to be a discrepancy in the data

Michael Goldstein – VFC (CDC orders in PA). In Philadelphia order are up about 1%, but Pennsylvania as a whole is down 15%. 4100 doses year to date vs. previous year
